Radio France

Paris, France

Lindner

Lindner

Project Description

"Maison de la Radio", the headquarters of Radio France, is a circular building which stands beside the River Seine in the 16th arrondissement of Paris. It not only houses Radio France's central services and the studios of several of its channels but also the "Musée de Radio France", a museum of radio and television broadcasting and recording techniques. Lindner supplied the building with Plafotherm® B heated/chilled ceilings of which two thirds were installed in the studio.

General

Building Type	Film and Recording Studios, Museums and Galleries, Industrial and commercial construction, Cultural buildings
Company Division	Lindner France SASU
Completition	2012
Client	Radio France
Architect	Architectes Urbanistes

Completed Works

- Heated and Chilled Post Cap Ceilings

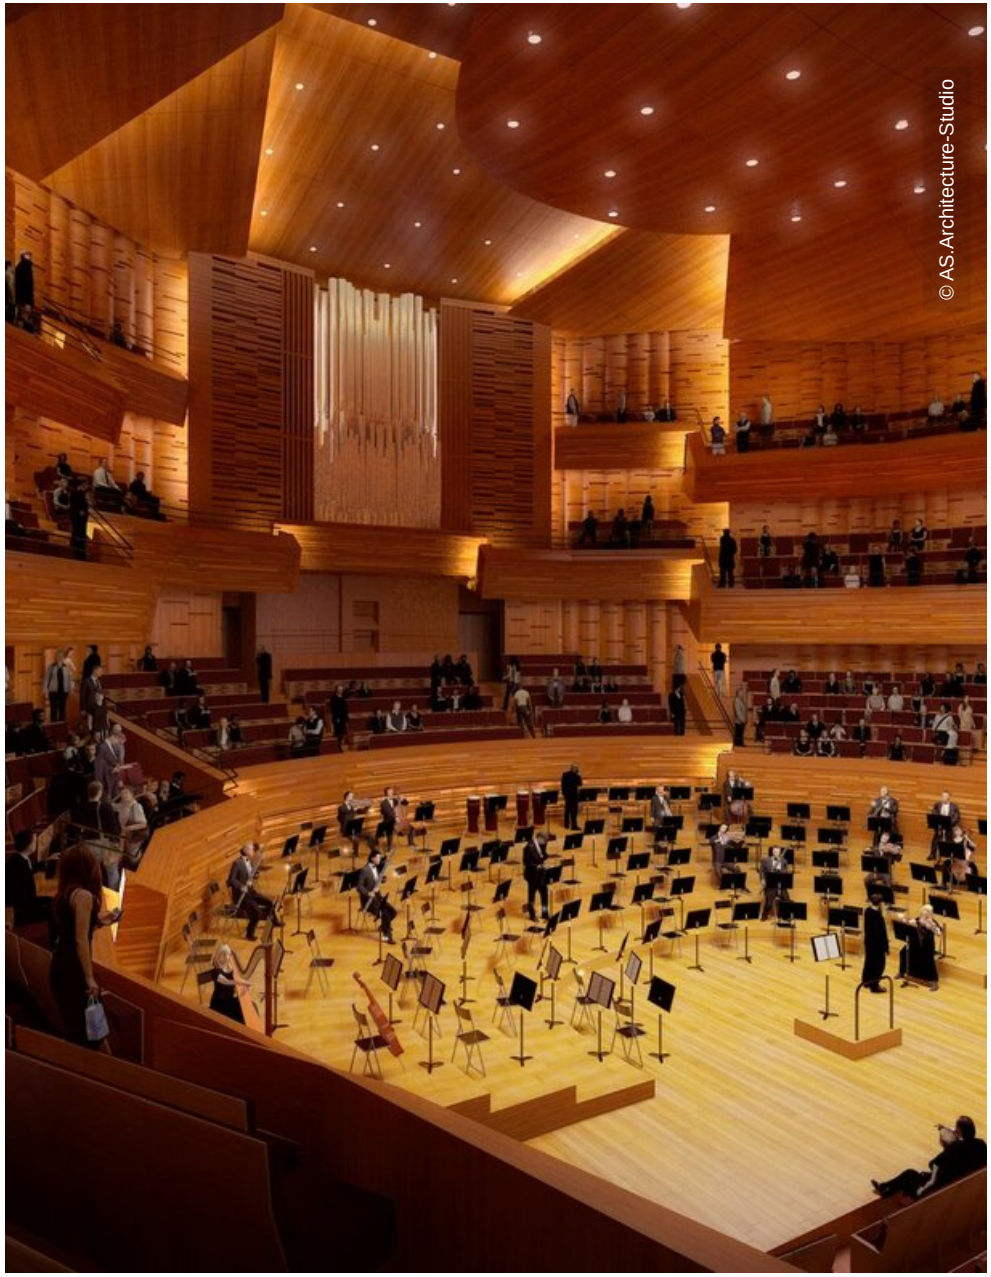
  Heated and Chilled Post Cap Ceilings
  Plafotherm® B 100

Lindner



Lindner