Project Description

Lorenz Wittmann GmbH is a medium-sized company headquartered in Geisenhausen, Lower Bavaria. The company is a specialist in recycling. Through customer-oriented disposal concepts, waste and recyclables are disposed of professionally and recycled professionally. In its more than 50-year history, Wittmann Recycling has grown sustainably, resulting in the planning for a modern office building in Geisenhausen. The building offers space for all commercial and commercial departments as well as the management. Lindner contributed to the new construction of Lorenz Wittmann GmbH with glass and wooden partitions as well as integrated wooden doors. The office space of the building is always located around a central corridor; Glass partitions of the type Lindner Life Stereo 125 were used here to create spatial separation with high transparency at the same time. Wooden partitions with oak veneer were framed in aluminum frames and integrated into the glass partitions. Through the continuous veneer image between the door leaf and upper panel, the appearance is additionally upgraded. Within the office space, the separation was achieved with Lindner Logic 100 wooden partitions. With a white melamine resin coating and generous glass inserts as a skylight and in the form of aluminum glass doors, a luminous working environment was also created here. On the 3rd floor, a meeting room was built using Lindner Life Pure 620 profile walls with integrated sliding glass doors.
