

RADIO FRANCE

PARIS, FRANCE

Description:

"Maison de la Radio", the headquarters of Radio France, is a circular building which stands beside the River Seine in the 16th arrondissement of Paris. It not only houses Radio France's central services and the studios of several of its channels but also the "Musée de Radio France", a museum of radio and television broadcasting and recording techniques. Lindner supplied the building with Plafotherm® B heated/chilled ceilings of which two thirds were installed in the studio.
