

OFFICE AND PRACTICE BUILDING

LEUTKIRCH IM ALLGÄU, GERMANY

Description:

This ecologically sustainable new construction plays an important role in the revaluation of Leutkirch's railroad station district. This multipurpose building houses a variety of carefully selected tenants, including the administration of the local bank and a centre for dialysis.

Lindner heating and cooling ceiling systems were installed in all areas of the building, providing a both aesthetic and functional solution for controlling room temperature.

General:

Concept/Product:	Heating and cooling technologies
Building Type:	Multipurpose building, Office buildings
Client:	Leutkircher Bank eG
Architecture:	GMS Freie Architekten
Company Division:	Lindner SE Heating and Cooling
Completion:	2014

Completed Works:

Heated and chilled metal ceilings

Plafotherm® E - Hook-On/Corridor ceilings

Heated and chilled canopy ceilings

Plafotherm® DS - Canopy ceilings

