Project Description

In 1954, Liebherr built its second crane factory in Biberach an der Riß, Germany. Today, this factory is part of the Liebherr group of companies. Every day, many Liebherr production employees are working on tailor-made crane systems. Since 2018, the Administration, Purchasing and Human Resources departments of the company are housed in the new office building. The modern building is another step towards functionality and representativeness. It also means an additional improvement for the well-being of the employees.

The Lindner Group implemented about large quantities of post cap ceilings in the office spaces of the new centre. Moreover, Lindner realised expanded metal ceilings and acoustically optimized perforated plasterboard ceilings in the foyer. The transition between metal and plasterboard is formed by LED light strips. In the human resources office, heated and chilled hook-on ceilings type Plafotherm® E 213 where implemented and the new conference centre has been equipped with expanded metal ceilings.
