Project Description

Following an extensive refurbishment, the gymnasium at Straßkirchen Primary School has been given a fresh new look. Functional upgrades, such as an energy-efficient underfloor heating system and modern, accessible sanitary facilities, now provide optimal conditions for pupils, teachers, and visitors. With new windows and doors, a high-quality floor covering, and a fresh coat of paint, the hall now boasts a contemporary and inviting design.

A particular highlight of the renovation is the ball-impact resistant Hook-On ceiling LMD-E 213 BWS from the Lindner Group. Combining safety and aesthetics at the highest level, its robust construction easily withstands even intense ball impact, while the distinctive joints and concealed substructure contribute to a sleek, modern appearance. The elegant ceiling panels in RAL 7035, light grey, create a striking contrast with the dark window frames and the vibrant orange walls. Additionally, the system is easy to clean and allows for straightforward maintenance – ideal for daily school and club sports.
